

What is your research area and what are you currently working on? Talk about this as if you were speaking to the leading scientist in your field.

RARE
VOICES IN ECONOMICS

—

You are the most powerful researcher on earth: you have unlimited capacity and tools. What research question would you address next? Extra points if it's in your field.

RARE
VOICES
IN ECONOMICS

How do you keep up with the latest research in your area?

RARE
VOICES
IN ECONOMICS

Micro or macro?
How did you pick your side and why?

RARE
VOICES
IN ECONOMICS

Armchair economics:
could the government do anything about the topic you are studying?
Tell your partner about this.

RARE VOICES
IN ECONOMICS

Why did you choose to start a PhD in Economics?

RARE
VOICES
IN ECONOMICS

What are some of the key challenges you have faced during your PhD program?

RARE
VOICES
IN ECONOMICS

How do you think new technology is changing the way we approach economic research?

RARE
VOICES
IN ECONOMICS

Talk about your research
as if you were explaining it to your grandparents.

RARE
VOICES
IN ECONOMICS

When it comes to Economics, have you ever been
inspired by someone?
Same score if it's someone's work or an actual person as a teacher or a peer.

RARE
VOICES
IN ECONOMICS

If you could do a second PhD in parallel, what would you do and why?

RARE
VOICES
IN ECONOMICS